The kitchen, complete with stone-topped benches, offers the perfect vantage point to watch the family splash in the pool, while the easy living continues with the flow of the large formal lounge opening to a private courtyard.

Wide tinted glass panels and skylights throughout means the home is light-filled and airy, and privacy isn't an issue with only one neighbour close by, and a private front entry.

The outdoor entertaining area offers a contrast of Grecian-style pillars overlooking the large pool, and adds to the temptation to kick back for a lazy Sunday afternoon on the deck, or try out the canal for fishing and kayaking. The garage includes ample rooftop storage for the water sport toys, and you can launch your craft at a nearby canal access point.

With only a small number of waterfront homes currently available in the Twin Waters postcode, this home is a must-see.

- Ducted air conditioning
